Do I have to hallmark all gold or silver articles I produce or sell ?

{beginslide id="1" title="Answer"}

No. There are weight exemptions according to the Law. These are below 1.0 g for gold and below 3 grs for silver articles.

{endslide}

What will happen if I do not hallmark my articles ?

{beginslide id="2" title="Answer"}

It is against the law to sell unhallmarked articles above the weight exemptions or describe articles as precious metal articles. Competition and Consumer Protection Service or Cyprus Assay Office Officers, have the power to seize any items that do not comply with the Law which can lead to prosecution and a fine of up to €10,000 or imprisonment for 2 years or both.

{endslide}

Should I send the articles for hallmarking finished or unfinished?

{beginslide id="3" title="Answer"}

It is acceptable in both ways, however it is preferable to send the articles in unfinished form. If the articles are supposed to be marked by laser, it is preferable to be sent in their prefinished stage.

{endslide}

Can I send my gold and silver work for hallmarking on the same hallmarking form?

{beginslide id="4" title="Answer"}

No, each metal and each standard needs to be submitted with its own separate form.

{endslide}

Can I apply my sponsor's mark to articles that do not need hallmarking?

{beginslide id="5" title="Answer"}

Yes. You can apply your sponsor's mark to any article that you make or sell which is hallmark exempted.

{endslide}

Can I choose where the hallmark is placed on my articles?

{beginslide id="6" title="Answer"}

Usually the Office decides where to place the hallmark according to the article type and the stage of manufacture (unfinished, etc). However, if you have a specific size or place you want the mark placed we suggest that you use a marker to indicate the relative area or/and discuss your requirements with an Officer.

{endslide}

If the submitted articles are substandard, what options do I have ?

{beginslide id="7" title="Answer"}

The articles can be hallmarked to next lower standard of fineness or destroyed for remake. If the articles are imported, they can also be given to the owner for re-export to the country of origin.

{endslide}

Which are the Gold and Silver standards of finenesses ?

{beginslide id="8" title="Answer"}

The standards of finenesses (parts per thousand) are :

for gold 375°, 585°, 750°, 916°, 999° and for silver: 800°, 830°, 925°, 999°.

{endslide}

What is the difference between a sponsor's mark and a logo?

{beginslide id="9" title="Answer"}

A sponsor's mark is a compulsory component of the hallmark and comprises the initials of the sponsor's personal or company name surrounded by a shield design. All sponsors' marks are unique and provided by the Assay Office. The company logo can not be used as a sponsor's mark. Your company logo can be used if you wish - on your articles - either from you or from our high-tech laser during hallmarking.

{endslide}

Does the Assay Office provide logo engraving services ?

{beginslide id="12" title="Answer"}

Yes. The Cyprus Assay Office can reproduce any design (with or without text) with Laser technology and engrave it to any flat metal surface. Please click here or contact us for more information.
